ECLT: 20 years of fighting child labour in tobacco growing and our 2021 objectives

Karima Jambulatova
ECLT Foundation
Established in 2000 by IUF and BAT, the ECLT Foundation is a platform for coordinated action, uniting the main players in the tobacco industry to provide leadership and accelerate progress against child labour in areas where tobacco is grown.
WHAT WE DO

Under the SDG agenda, ECLT brings the industry (companies and growers) to work together on a non-competitive basis towards responsible tobacco production.

ECLT drives collaborative solutions against child labour with stakeholders that may otherwise be averse to working with the tobacco sector – engaging UN agencies, governments, national authorities, companies across sectors, unions, NGOs, & communities. We give additional visibility to industry efforts, progress, and challenges in promoting education, decent work, and sustainable development in towards achieving SDG 8.7 by 2025.
ECLT STRATEGY

Preventing Child Labour Displacement between Crops

ECLT’s 3-level strategy and long-term vision towards thriving agricultural communities responds to the evolving reality of the tobacco sector globally and on the ground. The 3-year period of 2019 to 2021 is the first of three levels of the Foundation’s transformation from tobacco-focused to a more comprehensive agricultural approach to fighting child labour with a firm intention to prevent child labour displacement between crops and sectors.

The second and third levels will focus on expanding and solidifying our tobacco and cross-sectoral partnerships for shared accountability and sustainable elimination of child labour in all agriculture.

IN GUATEMALA, INDONESIA, MALAWI, MOZAMBIQUE, TANZANIA, UGANDA

Since 2011, ECLT has reached over 750,000 children and their families in tobacco-growing communities.

Our inclusive, area-based projects tackle the root causes of child labour:

1. Raising awareness on child labour and the dangers it poses to children.
2. Engaging parents and communities to identify children in child labour, withdraw and support them.
4. Increasing access to quality education and skills training to prepare children and youth for decent work
